You will never have any doubt again about your messages knowing that they will always be protected, this is and always will be for your eyes only. No prying eyes allowed EVER. It's a good feeling. True Privacy at its best. No wondering if your message apps can get court orders to access your account because there are no accounts So basically they have to ask you and the answer is always NO Never Otherwise the message would rather self-destruct than fall into the wrong hands.

It's a great feeling to be in control of your own privacy
